ARTISTIC MEDALS.

The following splendid group of medals of the Poet Goethe will doubtless attract the attention of those collectors who are aware of the difficulty of obtaining even a single medallie memorial of "the most illustrious name in German literature." Those who are not familiar with the subject will find careful and elaborate descriptions of all that have been struck,—less than thirty, so far as known—in the American Journal of Numismatics for October, 1887, and January, 1888. The author of these papers, Dr. H. R. Storer of Newport, R. I., says; "The medals of Goethe are intrinsically, and as compared with others of similar character, extraordinarily rare." Nearly one-third of all he describes are offered below.

- 518 GOETHE. Head left, JO · W · DE GOETHE etc.; rev., Apotheosis of Goethe, AD ASTRA REDIT, etc. Silver, extremely fine, rare. 29.

No. 15, Storer's List. Only one other, beside that in the Lee Collection, which is now the property of the U. S. Government and thus beyond the reach of collectors, is known in America. The ownership of that could not be ascertained by Dr. Storer, and it is believed to be the medal above.

- 519 — Head of Goethe l., IOH WOLFG · VON GOETHE; rev., Goethe crowned by two muses, MDCCCXXVI. Bronze, very fine. 27.

No. 12, Storer. Only one other known in America, that in his collection.

- 520 — Bust of Goethe to left; rev., two jugate busts, without inscription. Bronze, fine. 26.

No. 8, Storer, who calls it the third of the Jubilee series of Goethe's coming to Weimar. Miss Austin styles it "an exquisite work of art." This is believed to be the only one in America, and the same which was "sold 30th September, 1867, by Bangs, Merwin & Co., for the 'bagatelle' of three dollars." See Journal of Numismatics, for October, 1887, page 29.

- 521 — Head of the Grand Duke within wreath; rev., Apollo in quadriga, within the signs of the Zodiac, DER FUNFZIGSTEN WIEDERKEHR MDCCCXXV. Bronze, extremely fine. 26.

No. 9, Storer, who calls it "the fourth medal of the Weimar Jubilee," and says it seems to be "unknown to Rudolphi, Duisburg and Ruppell, and apparently also to Rollet." Ruland thinks that it commemorates the fiftieth anniversary of the reign of the Grand Duke Charles Augustus, which occurred in 1825, the fiftieth anniversary or "Jubilee" of Goethe's coming to Weimar, in honor of which event a number of medals were struck.

- 522 — Head of Goethe r. GOETHE etc; rev., ZUR ERINNERUNG AN DEN 28 AUGUST 1849 within wreath. Bronze, proof. 24.

No. 16, Storer. Unknown to Rollet.

- 523 — Head of Goethe r., in high relief, J · WOLFG · GOETHE; rev., eagle with spread wings holding wreath. Bronze, proof. 26.

No. 5, Storer. Only one known in America beside Dr. Storer's.

- 524 — Similar obverse; rev., Janiform head, with eagle, lion's head and cornucopiae, as designed by Goethe himself. Bronze, very fine. 26.

No. 14, Storer. Only two known in America; the other in the Lee Coll.

- 525 SCHILLER. Head of Schiller, ZUR SAECULARFEIER D. 10 NOV. 1859; rev., winged female with lyre. Bronze, proof. 27.
526 BYRON. Head of Byron in high relief, ΒΥΡΩΝ; rev., shrub struck by lightning, ΑΦΘΙΤΟΝ ΑΙΕΙ. Bronze, proof. 40.
